Dear Sir,

Please find the submission of our manuscript,

“Combination of Intralesional Triamcinolone Acetonide and 5-Fluorouracil In Keloid”

which we would like to submit for publication in the International Journal of Integrated Health Science. Herewith, we also attached 3 sets of manuscript (hard copy) and 1 CD (soft copy).

In this manuscript, we report a case of keloid on a 22-year-old woman whose skin lesions first appeared 10 years prior to consultation. Lesions had been surgically excised and given triamcinolone acetonide injections, but there were no improvements. We decided to use and evaluate the treatment using intralesional combination of triamcinolone acetonide and 5-FU injection for 5 weeks. Clinical improvement were observed at third week as the lesions softened and lesser pruritic sensation. At the end of fifth week, there were improvements with flattening and size reduction of the keloid lesions.

Author and all co-authors have seen and agreed with the contents of the manuscript and there is no financial interest to report. We certify that the manuscript submitted is an original work and is not under review at any other publication. We thank you for considering our manuscript for publication in the International Journal of Integrated Health Science and look forward to hearing from you at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely yours,
